"NOT ONE CENT FOR TRIBUTE" SLOGAN

Militant English Suffragettes Reiterate Their Defiance of Law.

LONDON IS ANXIOUS.

Shopkeepers in British Metropolis Board up Windows—Crusade Extends to Ireland.

London, Jan. 28.—"Not one cent for tribute" the slogan of the militant suffragettes when arrested, was reiterated today in Bow Street Police Court by Mrs. Despard when she chose to go to jail for 14 days rather than pay a $10 fine.

Scotland Yard heads were confident today of their ability to cope with the situation, because they professed to be in possession of all of the plans of the suffragettes.

Despite the assurance of the police, though, London today feared a reign of terror. Utterances of Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Despard and others were to the effect that the women intended to break every law in the calendar except that against murder. By a campaign of smashing windows, they plan to annoy the public so that there will be a clamor from all quarters for the government to give women the ballot. Shopkeepers all over London are boarding up their windows.

A serious clash between the suffragettes and the police is expected to take place in Parliament Square when "General" Flora Drummond says she will lead a large deputation of working women to call on David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchekuer.

The women asked Lloyd George to receive them today in the House of Commons, and he refused by letter. "General" Drummond then wrote a letter to Lloyd George warning him of the visitation planned tonight.

All cabinet ministers today were guarded in their homes and offices on the streets.

Dublin, Jan. 28.—Irish suffragettes at noon made an onslaught on Dublin Castle the official building of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and smashed several windows. Three of the women, Mrs. Cousins, Mrs. Connery and Mrs. Hopkins, were promptly arrested and sent to jail to be held for trial.

National Civic Federation.

New York, Jan. 28.—Dominant note at all of the sessions of the National Civic Federation's thirteenth annual meetings which began today in the Hotel Astor with noted representatives of capital and labor in attendance was the possible dangers of a general tieing up of the industries of the country through strikes now threatened and the necessity of some method of compulsory arbitration being decided on. Incident to the opening session. Sehh Low, president of the Federation, called attention to the fact that the policy of the A. F. of L., is "constructive" and then criticised the Socialists for their opposition to the federation methods.

CAR ROBBERS AT WORK.

Steal Six Dozen Shoes From the Southern Railway Last Night.

Some time last night car robbers broke open Southern Railway freight car No. 11,976 while it was being transferred to the Southern Railway from the Washington and Old Dominion Railway between the plant of the Alexandria Fertilizer Company and the Old Dominion Glass Company, and stole three dozen boxes of shoes. The boxes are said to contain from two to three dozen shoes each and were consigned to merchants on the Harrisonbugr branch of the Southern from a Lynchburg, Va., factory.

The robbers opened the boxes near the river front and made away with the contents. The boxes were discovered this afternoon by employes of the Fertilizer Company who notified Chief Goods. The latter is making an investigation of the robbery.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

President-Elect Wilson has received personal greetings from the King of Spain through the Marques de La Vega Inclan, the royal commissioner delegate to select a site for the Spanish exhibit at the Panama Exposition at San Francisco. It was the first message Mr. Wilson has received from an European ruler. The envoy, besides conveying to the President-elect the King's personal message of good will, expressed in behalf of the King a deep interest in the exposition at San Francisco. He told the Governor that Spain had been planning a similar exposition for the same year, but now intended to postpone her world's fair until 1918.

Attorney Harry L. Bailey,, Republican nominee for Congress from the 9th district of Kentucky during the last election, was shot and instantly killed at Cynthiana, yesterday afternoon by Newton Arnold, also of this city, who wielded the gun. Bailey was well known as a newspaper man. The argument is said to have arisen over a business deal.

A dispatch from Aix-la-Chapelle, Rhenish Prussia, says the German aviator Huell was instantly killed yesterday afternoon while making a flight He elevated his planes suddenly to avoid telegraph wires and fell out of his seat, from a height of about 30 feet. His skull was fractured.

Atragedy due to jealousy is reported from Blidah, Algeria. Dr. Batut, a retired army doctor and a chevalier of the egion of Honor, returning home toward dusk, found his wife and Lieut. Gavet chatting in an avenue leading to his villa. A violent quarrel followed between the two men and Mme. Batut fled indoors. The report of a revolver was heard, and Lieut. Gavet dropped dead. Dr. Batut then followed his wife to the bedroom and fired at her, but missed. The wife ran from room to room, pursued by the husband, whose young son vainly strove to restrain him. The wife was at last unanable to escape and was killed with three bullets. Dr. Batut has been arrested.

David Scalbetti, aged ten years, is in jail in Greensburg, Pa., charged with the murder of Andy Sabon at Yukon, a mining town near here. The boy, who is the son of Nick Scalbetti, a grocer, quarreled with a brother over some candy. David got a rifle and fired at his brother, but the bullet went wide and killed Sabon, who was a customer in his father's store.

Engaging in a mock fight with "unloaded" revolvers in Baltimore, Miss Myrtle Reuwer, 1 6year old, narrowly missed being killed, and probably will he disfigured for life by a bullet that tore through her right cheek. Milton Fetch, a companion, was arrested.

Miss Gladys Hall, of Portsmouth, R. I., a pretty high school graduate of last year and much beloved by her classmates, was found drowned yesterday. She had been missing since Thursday.

In a fight between a sheriff's posse, and John Baran, an outlaw, at the latter's home near Riding Mountain, Manitoba, yesterday, a woman and child were shot to death by officers. Baran escaped.

Corpl. Henry Bullard, 27 years old, a member of the 143d United States coast artillery company at Fort Washington, on the Potomac, who was a prisoner in the guardhouse on a charge of perjury in a minor case, died yesterday morning in the post hospital from what is believed to have been the effects of some deadly poison.

Following a day of quiet, during which New York hotel managers declared that the waiters' strike had been broken and that numbers of the 2,500 waiters who originally joined the movement had applied for reinstatement, a crowd of 1,500 waiters, in a mass meeting early last night, voted unanimously to continue the strike until their demands had been been granted. Hardly had the result of the vote been announced before the strikers left the hall and began a demonstration in the hotel district. In front of the Hotel Imperial the strikers halted for a moment and several windows were broken with stones before the police dispersed the crowd.

REFUSE TO GIVE UP ADRIANOPLE

Young Turks Back Enver Bey, The Present Dictator of the Empire.

LEADER PARALYZED.

Joint Note of Balkans Approved—Armistice to be Broken Off Soon and Fighting Renewed.

Constantinople, Jan. 28.—The council of the Committee of Union and Progress (Young Turks) today voted unanimously to refuse to give up Adrianople and the Aegean Islands to the Balkan Allies.

The Young Turks are the backers of Enver Bay, the dictator of the revolutionary governmental and it is regarded as probable that their decision will be the official reply of Turkey to the great powers. The national assembly and the Sublims Porte are expected to follow their action.

It was announced today that Kiamil Pasha, deposed grand vizier, has been stricken with paralysis on his right side. The aged statesman is the leader of the counter-revolutionists who were expected to overthrow the Enver Bey cabinet.

"Turkey will hold Adrianople and the Aegean Islands regardless of Consequences," was the defiant statement made by one of the Young Turk leaders after the conference. It was taken to mean that so far as Turkey is concerned, the Balkan war will be renewed. And it is not likely that the powers could persuade the Balkan states to modify their demands, even should they attempt such a course.

London, Jan. 28.—The joint note of the Balkan delegates informing the Turkish plenipotentiaries that the armistice is to be broken off was approved today by all the envoys of the allies, at a luncheon by M. Novakovitch, the Servian chief.

The delegates examined the brief note with great interest and discussed it at length, and then decided to hold a formal session tomorrow to give it official approval.

It now is certain that should fighting be resumed, it will be at least two weeks before the armistice can be broken with regularity and a state of war cannot exist before the middle of February. The Balkan envoys will have to submit their note to their government for approval. Then it will be presented to the Ottoman delegates. They will have to refer it to Constantinople before making a reply. The allies will then consider the Turkish answer, and after all that is done, the allies will appeal to Sir Edward Grey to call a formal sitting at St. James Palace, at which the actual denunciation of the armistice will be declared.

In the meantime the ambassadors are holding daily consultations at the Foreign Office and it is confidently believed that the powers will intervene before the peace envoys finish with heir red tape.

The notes to Turkey merely state that as Turkey has made no move since January 6. in the peace negotiations the allies have no course open but to break off the negotiations.

Masons Take up Charges.

Members of the Masonic order of Washington are preparing to investigate the scandal revealed last Saturday through the suicide of Miss N. Elwell, who left letters disclosing her relations with a married man and Mason of Riverdale, Md.

Neither the police nor the coroner have officially revealed the man's name, but his alleged connection with the case is known to many persons.

Her request of the coroner that he get from the married man the money necessary for the cremation of her body was not complied with, for Clarence T. Owens, of Winchester,, Va., with his wife, who was Miss Elwell's sister, took her body to Winchester for burial.

Before taking her life Miss Elwell destroyed her correspondence and obtained the return of all her photographs from the friends who possessed them.

PREPARING FOR BANQUET.

Cardinals Will Give Clark Griffith Royal Welcome Tomorrow Night.

Alexandria baseball "fans" are preparing a royal welcome for tomorrow night when Clark Griffith manger of the Washington baseball team, will be entertained at a banquet by the Cardinal Athletic Club at the Hotel Rammel. More than 150 guests of the club will be present and the entertainment promises to be one of the most pretentious that the club has ever given.

The Cardinal Athletic Club is one of the strongest amateur athletic clubs in this section of the country and is represented by baseball, football, and basketball teams. Many of its games are played with the strong school and amateur clubs of the District of Columbia and the Cardinals colors are rarely lowered. Next season it is the intention of the management to have two baseball teams in the field and the banquet to Mr. Griffith tomorrow night is given largely for the purpose of arousing the interest of Alexandria fans in the ambitious plans of the club.

Manager Griffith is a favorite with the "fans" in Alexandria and the banquet tomorrow night will be attended by many prominent citizens.

Mayor Thomas A. Fisher who is an enthusiastic admirer of the National game will preside as toastmaster and a number of interesting features will add to the pleasure of the occasion.

SLAVERY IN MOROCCO.

How Human Beings are Now Bought And Sold.

Paris, January 28. —A revolting picture is painted by a correspondent of the Matin of the slave traffic in Morocco.

Although the nefarious trade in human merchandise as practised by the corsairs and dhow masters of the African seas has long been stamped out, it still appears to flourish in the lands of the Moors.

Writing from Marrakesh, which is stated to be the center of this traffic, the correspondent, a French lady doctor, says:

"The slaves conveyed by caravans from the Sus and Tafilet regions are quickly sold, either publicly in the market at Marrakesh or clandestinely.

"Sales take place in broad daylight. Penned in boxes running around a covered gallery, which serves as a market square in rainy weather, the unfortunate human cattle are exposed for sale three times a week.

Little by little the square fills with potential purchasers. When all is ready the dellas or auctioneers arrive on the scene, and with solemn prayer, open the market.

"Prayers over each dellal proceeds to sort out his proper lot of slaves. He then replaces their miserable rags by a more decent attire, and followed close at his heels by the groups of men, women and children, he walks around the market crying the value of his wares.

"Intending purchasers now and again stop the perambulation, and leisurely examine the human animal which may have attracted their attention.

"The bargain being closed, the sale is duly attested before the adouts, or notaries. The price varies according to the sex, age and qualities of the slave.

"Ihave seen a man 24 years of age sold for 3 pounds and 10 shillings. Girls from 10 to 12 years old fetch from 15 pounds to 20 pounds. The highest price is paid for a woman who can cook.

"It frequently happens that when a woman with a baby at the breast, or accompanied by a little child is brought into the market the buyer wishes to buy the woman only.

"It is then that the most heartrending scenes are witnessed,as the weeping mothers are separated from their offispring with brutal violence.

Strike in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa. Jan. 28.—Striking American steel and wire workers prepared to resist the importation and use of strike breakers in the Rankin and Braddock mills today.

The night shift at the Braddock mill joined the Rankin strikers and it is reported that only 25 workers availed themselves of the police escort offered to those who wished to go to work in that mill. Special officers are uneasy today for they are as unpopular with the strikers as are the strike-breakers.

HOWARD ATTACKS DO-NOTHING PARTY

Justice Arraigns the Judiciary Throughout the Entire Country.

CREATING ANARCHY.

Speaker Draws Comparison Between Punishment of Bank Wrecker and Man Guilty of Petit Larceny.

Troy, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Not in many years have legal circles been as exercised as they are today following Justice Wesley O. Howard's bitter attack on the "do-nothing" policy of the bench. Howard, justice of the Supreme Court recently detailed to the Appellant division by Governor Sulzer was considered for five years a machine politician, but many of his recent utterances have been ultra progressive. To the alumni of La Salle Institute, however, the Justice last night threw all of his utterances into the shade and declared that the judges of this country were doing more to create anarchistic conditions than any one else.

Brandt, the obscure valet, not guilty at all of the crime of which he was accused, so the attorney general states, is sentenced to states prison for thirty years—practically for life; Robin, the millionaire, the alleged wrecker of banks, houses and homes, goes to jail for one year. More, who pyramided banks and juggled with millions, gets out of prison because he is sick while the convict in the next cell who perhaps stole a coat, remains there languishing with sickness until he dies.

"The people are becoming impatient with these discrepencies of justice, and they are demanding with loud r voice each day that there be reform. It is not well to scoff at the mutterings of the people; there is much reason for it. But revolutionary measures are to be avoided. The recall of judges and decisions would work no cure—that woud precipitate anarchy.

"Let us not deceive ourselves; the spirit of recall is spreading; the impatience of the masses growing deeper. Something will happen. Unless the judges act the people will act; if they do not resort to the recall they will revise the constitution and create new courts—courts that will do rough justice; courts to do summary justice; courts close to the common people; courts without technicalities sophistry and delay, and where substantial right prevails."

Suffragette Excitement.

The fury of the English suffragettes last night over the death of the franchise bill, knew no bounds. Within a few minutes of Premier Asquith's announcement, made to an excited House of Commons that the measure would be withdrawn owing to the amandment proposing women suffrage, constituting a new bill, Mrs. Pankhurst rounded up her most prominent supporters and declared that there would be an immediate resumption of hostilities. "We are guerrilists,"she said, "and we are fighting as Garabaldi fought in the Italian war for freedom."

Last night the west end of London presented a unique spectacle. Policemen were everywhere and every piece of glass was boarded up. As soon as the word went around that the bill had been killed,carpenters were hurriedy sent for and the noise of thousands of hammers told the story of the panic that has seized London.

The suffragists convened meetings everywhere, and the word "betrayal" was in every woman's mouth. In Trafalgar Square fully 5,000 women assembled, headed by Mrs. Despard and Sylvia Pankhurst. During a struggle Mrs. Despard was arrested and was only gotten to the stationhouse after a desperate attempt to rescue her by a mob of excited women. Sylvia got away in the excitement, but later inside of St. Stephen's Hall. Westminister, she threw a stone at one of the valuable pictures there and was captured after an exciting struggle.

TRENARY ELECTED.

Third Sergeant Promoted to Second Lieutenant of Alexandria Light Infantry.

At a meeting of the Alexandria Light Infantry, which was held last night Grafton C. Trenary, third sergeant of the company, was elected second lieutenant to fill the vacancy which has been open for some months. A number of promotions among the non-commissioned officers of the company will follow Mr. Trenary's election. Steps were taken to recruit the company up to its full strength so as to be in readiness for inspection which will take place on February 18th.

No action has been taken as yet by the state authorities in reference to sending the Virginia troops to take part in the inauguraton parade on March 4th, and in case it is decided that there is no money available for this purpose it is probable that the Light Infantry, together with other companies in the First Regiment will arrange to pay their own expenses and participate in the parade.

PROFESSOR FORCED FROM UNIVERSITY

Believes Churches Should be Closed and People Set To Liberty.

FAVORS OPEN SUNDAY.

Thinks All Should Haeve "Uproariously Good Time" on The First Day of the Week.

Middleton, Conn., Jan. 28.—Because he recently declared that he believed the country would be much better off if many of the churches were ordered closed by law and the people given an opportunity to enjoy themselves as they thought best, Professor Willard C. Fisher, one of the most noted educators in the country, has been forced out of Wesleyan University faculty. The resignation was at the direct demand of President William A. Shanklin of Wesleyan after Dr. Fisher had absolutely refused to change his expressed views.

In an interchange of letters Prof. Fisher told the president that in his address in Hartford he advocated a more open Sunday and allowing a man to do pretty nearly everything that did not disturb the day for others and that he saw no religious inconsistency "in a man's having an uproaring good time on Sunday if there was no disturbance of the religious or other uses of the day by others."

The president said in part:

"I am constrained to the conviction that your attitude in the matter is so far out of harmony with the spirit of the college which is and always has been profoundly in sympathy with the Christian Churches, that your continuance in your present official position is undesirable for the college or for yourself. I feel therefore compelled to request you for your resignation."

In tendering his resignation Professor a man with his views and who than a college with the history and the constituency and the support of Wesleyan was not exactly the place ofr a man with his views and who could not suppress them. eH said he left the college without a trace of ill will toward anybody connected with it.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexandria--Happenings in Society.

Mrs. Herbert Oliver entertained at cards yesterday afternoon at her home in south Washington street in honor of her sister, Mrs. Unduch, of Baltimore, who is making a week's visit here to her parents and sister. The drawing room was most charmingly arranged with vases of fragrant carnations and sweet peas. The guests were first ushered into the dining room where Mrs. Lewis Machen presided over the punch bowl, embowered in crimson carnations and resting upon the daintiest of lunch cloths of Battenburg. Mrs. Oliver was gowned most becomingly in a black lace over a soft shade of red. Mrs. Unduch's gown which enhanced her beauty of brunette type, was of lavender mesaline draped in graceful folds about a bodice of handsome lace. The attractive prizes, a cluster of ferns imbedded in a wicker basket and a hand-worked sewing bag, were won by Mrs. Albert Smoot, jr., and Miss Lulu Smoot bue every guest felt she had won a prize, when the ices were served with a dear little boutineer of sweet peas upon each plate. Master Edward Oliver was official score-keeper and with childish enthusiasm presented each lady her tally card.

Mrs. Oliver's guests were Mrs. Louis Barley, Mrs. Harry Burke, Mrs. Charles Nicol, Mrs. Robert Barrett, Mrs. Clarence Leadbeater, Mrs. Emmett Dunn, Mrs. Albert Smoot, jr., Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. George Uhler, Miss Lulu Smoot, Miss Cora Smoot, Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. Albert Bryan, and Mrs. George French, Msr. Oliver entertains again this afternoon at cards in honor of Mrs. Unduch, whose many friends in Alexandria are glad to have her again in their midst.

Mrs. T. Anderson Sommers and Miss Kathrin G. Uhler entertained at a beautiful card party Saturday afternoon in honor of their cousin, Mrs. William L. Unduch, of Baltimore. Among those present were Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Mrs. D. Moxley Low, Mrs. Laurence Stabler, Mrs. T. B. Cochran, Mrs. Richard Gibson, Mrs. C. C. Leadbeater, Mrs. Stewart Jamieson, Mrs. Lewis Machen, Mrs. William Connely, Mrs. Henry O'Bannon Copper, Mrs. Isaac Gregg, Mrs. Wilmer J. Waller, Miss Cora Smoot, Miss Minnie Henderson, Miss Dollie Zimmerman, Miss Frances Danenhower, Miss Katherine Hutton, Miss Mary Glenn Uhler and Miss Naomi Simmons.

The pretty prizes were won by Mrs. Stewart Jamieson, Mrs. D. Moxley Low, and Mrs. William Connelly.

Miss Mary Glenn Uhler is entertaining the "Kit Kats" this afternoon at her home, 202 north Washington street.

The Afternoon Auction Bridge Club met yesterday afternoon with Miss Cora Jones on Prince street. Those present were Miss Nancy Tackett, Miss Dorsey Ashton, Miss Julia Nicol, Miss Christina Kemper, Miss Sophia Tackett, Miss Emily Johnson, and Miss Katherine Hutton, of Sandy Springs, Md.

BOTH PARTIES ARE FINED

Aftermath of Excitement on Prince Street, Near Royal, on Last Friday Night

The case of A. E. Smoot and William Oehlert, who were engaged in a fight last Friday night in front of the Relief Hook and Ladder house, was investigated in the Police Court this morning. Several witnesses were examined, whose evidence was substantially as given in Saturday's Gazette.

A soldier from Fort Hunt, who witnessed the scuffle after the fight had been precipitated, testified that Smoot was down when witness rushed from the opposite side of the street and Oehlert had a pistol in his hand, and said "I have a great mind to shoot you with your own pistol." Oehlert, however discharged the pistol twice in an opposite direction from Smoot.

The other witnesses added nothing new to the case.

Smoot was finally put upon the stand. He stated that during a colloquy with Oehlert the latter struck, knocked him down, and stunned him. He denied having pulled the pistol on his antagonist, but acknowledged he had the weapon on his person, having been told to carry it for a reason.

Oehlert after giving the origin of the difficulty, the result of a family matter, said Smoot drew a knife upon him, and at that juncture he struck Smoot, who drew his pistol. He took the weapon from him and discharged it. He also asserted that Smoot snapped the pistol in his face.

Justice Caton imposed a fine of $10 upon Oehlert for assault and $20 upon Smoot for carrying concealed weapons.

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

Street Committee Last Night Maped Out Work for Early Spring

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council will be held tonight. It is not believed any attempt will be made to elect a successor to C. R. Yates, former member of the Common Council from the First ward.

A meeting of the committee on streets was held last night, at which it was decided to request the Corporation Attorney to prepare ordinances for the improvement of 27 squares.

The committee was in session for more than three hours and the whole paving situation in Alexandria was gone over in a thorough manner.

It was decided to recommend the immediate paving of the following 21 blocks with either asphalt block, vitrified brick or tar macadam. Fairfax street, Duke to Wilkes; Alfred street, Wilkes to Franklin; Royal street, Prince to Wilkes; Cameron street, Royal to St. Asaph; Cameron street, Washington to Columbus; Pitt street, King to Cameron; St. Asaph street, King to Queen; St. Asaph street, King to Duke; Columbus street, King to Prince; Washington street, Duke to Franklin; Payne street, Cameron to Queen.

The following streets are the ones to be paved with cobble stones taken from the central portion of the city if the recommendations are carried out. Princess street, Lee to Washington and Pitt street, Queen to Princess.

The question of paving Prince and Queen streets to relieve some of the congestion on King street was also discussed.

POLK MILLER TONIGHT.

Distinguished Entertainer Will Make His Last Appearance.

While there has been a large advance sale for the entertainment to be given tonight at the Elks Auditorium by Polk Miller and his celebrated company there are still plenty of tickets and those who wish to hear Mr. Miller will have no difficulty in securing seats. The performance will commence at 8 o'clock and the price of admission is 50 cents.

As previously announced tonight will mark Mr. Miller's last appearance on the stage. He is making a farewell tour en route to New York where he will have records made of his songs and stories.

WINKFIELD.—In sad but loving remembrance of our devoted wife and mother, LOUISA E. WINKFIELD, who departed this life two years ago today, January 28 1911.

God called her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love her still,
Her memory is as dear today
As on the morning she passed away.
—By Her Devoted Husband and Children.

If you wish to cure a scolding wife, never fail to laugh at her until she ceases—then kiss her. Sure cure and no quack medicine. We can give you a remedy almost as good—one that will last longer than a kiss—get a pair of those Red Cross Shoes, sold exclusively by Marshall and she will forget all about scolding.

Following on the heels of the impeachment of Judge Robert W. Archbald, Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, this afternoon introduced a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment that Congress may provide for other causes of impeachment than those now provided for, and other methods for the trial of all civil officers, except the President, vice-president and supreme court members.

Shamokin, Pa. — Condemned to death for the murder of a companion, Frederick Nye, 18, smiled broadly, put out his hands handcuffed, and thanked the judge for the sentence.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

BOY SENTENCED.

Takes Farmer's Pocketbook and Must go to Reform School.

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 28.—A pathetic case was before Mayor Smith Saturday when Lurtis Donald, white, a small messenger boy of thirteen years, was tried for the larceny of $69 fro mthe perso nof W. H. Sligh, white ,a farmer of Waugh. The youth met Sligh at a restaurant Friday night and accompanied him to one of the picture shows. This was about 5 o'clock in the evening, and Sligh, being the worse for loss of sleep and indulgence, fell asleep and was roused up by one of the attendants of the theatre about 8 o'clock.

The farmer claimed to have had his wallet in a back pocket of his overalls and when he awoke the money was gone.

The little messenger boy was arrested and tried in the short space of an hour, he not having a friend or lawyer to advise him at the trial and he was sentenced to a term in the reform school.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF GOODE.

Shoe Merchant Identifies Negro as His Assailant.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 28.—Detective Sergeant S. G. Pearson, who has been working on the case of Jas. Goode, alias Joe Jones, the negro charged with assaulting and robbing Julius Smith, has located a second victi mof Goode's in the person of Mendel Finkelstein, a shoe merchant. Finkelstein positively identified Goode as the negro who assaulted him about three weeks ago and ransacked his shoe store.

According to the merchant, Goode came into his store about three weeks ago and hit him on the head with some blunt instrument, probably an iron bar, similar to the one with which the assault upon Julius Smith was made.

Finkelstein is absolutely certain in his identification of Goode as the man who assaulted him. He told the detective that Goode pushed open the door of his place while he was in his store. He got a good look at him and knows Goode is the man who assaulted him.

WILL PUSH DEMANDS.

Anti-Saloon League Prepares to Fight For Enabling Act.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 28.—That the Virginia Anti-Saloon League will vigously pushing its demand for an enabling act, giving the people of the State the right to vote on the question of prohibition, and that it will bend its energies toward arousing the temperance advocates of the State to the necessity of backing for the House of Delegates those declaring for the enabling act and will pursue its policy of bringing pressure to bear upon the "wet" senators is clearly indicated in the prospectus of the twenty-fifth annual convention of the league, which is to be held in Roanoke in February.

The motto of the convention will be "The Enabling Act—The right of the people to vote on the liquor question."

Secretary McAlister said yesterday that efforts will be made to show the "wet"senators whose vote was not in accord with the wishes of their constiuents that their officiel life depends upon a change in their vote in he next general assembly. "There are at least eight of those senators," he said, "and our purpose is to bring home to them clearly that the people of their districts favor the enabling act and want them to vote for it."

The vote in the senate last year was 23 to 15, with two members pairing. A change of five votes will give a majority for the enabling act if those who voted for it in the last senate do not change their votes.

The Anti-Saloon league claims not to be in politics, and so cannot nominate candidates for the next house of delegates, but it will do all in its power to stir up the prohibitionists of the state to renewed efforts,and will urge them in and out of season to bring about the nomination and election of those favorable to the measure. Strenuous efforts are being made to have the largest convention in the history of the league this February for its "moral effect" upon the state. In this week's issue of the Virginia Issue, the official organ of the league, charge is made that "every man who voted for the enabling act has been practically marked by the league interests, and will not get back to the legislature if he can possibly be defeated."

BANDS AT INAUGURATION.

Staunton Will be Represented by Three Musical Organizations.

Staunton, Va., Jan. 28. — Three Staunton bands will take part in Wilson's inaugural parade in Washington, on March 4th, in addition to the local military companies First Regiment staff, and the corps of cadets of the Staunton Military Academy. The Stonewall Brigade, First Regiment, and S. M. A. bands are the local musical organizations which will pass in review before the new President, with hundreds of other big organizations, both military and civic. Each will number about forty men.

Attendance of the S. M. A. band at the inauguration ceremonies, will of course depend on whether or not the cadet corps makes the trip which, although practically assured, has not been definitely decided.

RECORD TRAIN.

175 Loaded Coal Cars Pulled by Three Engines.

Bristol, Va., Jan. 28.—The Norfolk and Western Railway is taking the lead in point of long trains in the new era of coal development in Virginia and West Virginia. A special train was run out of Page Hollow, in West Virginia, last week, with A. J. Cundiff conductor in charge, that carried 175 cars. It was pulled by three locomotives, and was estimated to be almost a mile and a quarter in length. A week earlier, a train of 150 cars was run from the same place. This was at that time a record-breaker. The longer of these two trains blocked crossings in the towns fifteen minutes. There has been some rivalry between railways it is said, for long trains, but the longest train pulled over the Virginian road carried 110 cars.

Back Broken.

Warsaw, Va., Jan. 28.—W. W. Wright, constable of Copley district, Westmoreland county, was caught in the fly wheel of a gasoline engine yesterday at the shop of Wade Hudson, at Acorn, and it is thought is fatally injured. His backbone is believed to be broken.

Tries to Kill His Wife.

Danville, Va., Jan. 28.—John N. Sykes, a young cotton mill operative yesterday morning at 7 o'clock attempted to murder his wife, Esther, in the weave room of the Dan River Mill, at Schoolfield.

Following domestic disagreements, he walked with her to her work yesterday morning and they renewed their quarrel, the woman declaring that she would no longer live with him.

When the couple arrived in the weave room Sykes asked his wife if she would take back what she had previously said to him and upon receiving a negative answer, he drew a pistol, put his arm around her neck and held the muzzle close to her left breast and fired.

The ball, deflected by a rib, passed out of the right breast making merely a flesh wound from which the doctors say she will recover.

The woman grappled with her assailant succeeded in breaking the pistol and the cartridges flew out of the chamber.

An overseer ran up at the shot and pinned Sykes down until an officer arrived and carried the man to jail.

Played Cards on Communion Table.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 28.—Charged with having broken into the Woodland Heights Baptist Church and used the communion table as a card table, with placing obstructions upon the street railway tracks and committing other misdemeanors, a gang of youngsters who infest that part of the city on Semmes Avenue between 21st and 35th streets, are being sought by the Police. Chief Werner has issued instructions to use every effort to break up the gang and apprehend the parties guilty of invading the church and turning it into a clubroom. The street car company will prosecute the youngsters when they are arrested.

In Search of Runaway Wife.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 28.—Seeking his runaway wife and Baxter Webster, with whom she is alleged to have disappeared from High Point, N. C., John Hardgrave arrived in Richmond yesterdey and traced the couple to South Richmond, and then implored the aid of the police in locating the couple. The husband has been tracing the couple since they left High Point, and seems on the verge of collapse as a result of the affair. Photographs of Hardgrave's wife were left with the police, who were tonight scouring the city in search of her.

EPIDEMIC OF MEASLES.

Several Schools in Buckingham Forced To Suspend.

Arvonia, Va., Jan. 28.—An epidemic of measles exists practically all over Buckingham county. Schools are badly infected with the disease, and a large number of them are temporarily depleted in pupils and a few have had to suspend work until the disease subsides.

The diphtheria scare in James river district has about blown over, no fatalities having resulted. The Warminster school which close on account of this disease, has resumed its regular sessions.

The disease of mumps is also prevalent in the various sections of the county, particularly in Marshall district, where there are a number of cases. Sporadic cases of various other children's diseases are reported from various sections hereabouts.

Owing to the remarkably mild and damp weather, much sickness exists everywhere in the county, the physicians being on the go night and day attending cases of pneumonia, grippe and other diseases incidental to warm and sultry weather.

YOUNG FARMER IN JAIL.

Arrested in Pennsylvania on Charge of Grand Larceny.

Hampton, Va., Jan. 28.—Raymond Godard, a young former, who left Hampton several weeks ago without settling up a number of claims, and after passing many bad checks, is now a prisoner in the county jail, having been brought back from Chester, Pa., to which place he went from this section. Godard is charged also with grand larceny. He is said to have given a deed of trust on a lot of cattle to one man and then sold them to another. He will be given a preliminary hearing in the Mayor's Court tomorrow. Godard has a wife, but no children.

BISHOP CONFIRMS CLASS.

Official Visit Catholic Church at Old Point.

Hampton, Va., Jan. 28.—Bishop Dennis J. O'Connell, of the Richmond Catholic Diocese paid his first official visit to St. Mary's Star of the Sea Catholic Church at Old Point on Sunday and in the afternoon confirmed a class of sixty communicants. It was the largest class ever confirmed at St Mary's Church and a crowd that filled the edifice witnessed the ceremonies and heard an excellent sermon by the bishop. Bishop O'Connell reached Old Point and was the guest of the Rev. Father Thomas J Wilson. He celebrated mass and preached in the Catholic Church at the National Soldier's Home Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock and at 10:30 o'clock he was in charge o fthe services in St. Mary's. The confirmation services took place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Bishop O'Connel returned to Richmond early yesterday morning

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true skin remedy must be a liquid. It can be applied without rubbing the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT! A simple wash: A combination of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

PLAN TO CONSOLIDATE CUSTOM HOUSES.

According to reports from Washington, the basis of the much-discussed merger of Virginia customs districts will be announced by the Treasury Department this week. The nation-wide scheme of consolidation is reported to be practically complete, only the case of the Virginia ports awaiting the final touch.

It appears to be practically certain that Virginia will emerge from the pruning with two custom districts in place of four districts into which the State is now divided. The one district plan, it appears, has been abandoned.

In this connecetion it is worth noticing that whatever may be the order of the Treasury Department this week in disposing of the Virginia customs problem, it will take precedence over presidential commissions now held by the several collectors. Most of these do not expire until the end of this year.

Such changes as may be called for by the order readjusting the customs districts will probably go into effect all over the United States on July 1st, the day following the official end of the fiscale year.The treasury Department order effecting these changes derives its power from the presidential fiat and wil,It is expected, automatically revoke all unexpired commissions given under the Presidential seal.

Roughly stated, the plan of the Customs Bureau is to make each state a customs collection district, and one city in each state the official port. In the case of states that have more than one natural port, these are to be taken care of by deputy collectors under the direction of the collector of the principal port.

The scheme follows the retrenchment program laid down by last summer's Democratic Congress, a portion of which calls for a reduction of $350,000 in the annual expenses of the customs divisions of the Treasury Department. It is estimated that the number of customs collectorships in the United States will be reduced by this plan from about 150 to fifty.

As has been stated under this plan it is purposed to abolish the Alexandria custom house.

BLEASE, THE UNIQUE.

In practically every community in this country some man, shrewd, unscrupulous and practical in politics, has challenged the forces of public opinion by lining up against it the forces of organization and graft, concealing his purposes and methods under an appeal to partisanship, prejudice or class hatred.

While this school of "old-fashioned politics" has its representative in every state by common consent, the Hon. Cole L. Blease, Governor of the proud old Commonwealth of South Carolina, is conceded to be the king of them all.

A special dispatch from Columbia, S. C. to the Baltimore Sun this morning gives some interesting facts about the character of the South Carolina Governor. The correspondent of the Sun says:

"As a species "Coley",as his friends and adherents call him, is by no means rare,although as a specimen he might be said to be unique. Probably no man in this country called to high office has ever done the things he has done and "gotten by" with them. He has kept his state continually in the limelight ever since he was first elected. It is there now as the result of the controversy that has broken out between him and the senior senator of the State, Ben Tillman.

"The last time he put his State before the eyes of the nation in such manner was when he made his outbreak before the conference of Governors in Richmond early last month, and as the South Carolina legislature is now in session it is expected that there will be something doing all the time until it adjourns.

"And as he is determined to be United States Senator to succeed Senater Smith there will be something more doing until after close of senatorial campaign. Everybody will know South Carolina is on the map as long as he has any official connection with it or desires any office within the gift of its people.

It is only fair to say, however, that the advertising he has been giving his state is not of the character appreciated by the thinking people of it. It makes them wince, and they do not like to talk about it. But, as for Governor Blease, he does not care what they like or what they do not like. The men who think are for the most part his political enemies, and for their opinion he professes a most complete indifference. He has the votes of those who do not think, and that is the main thin gaccording to his plan of operations.

"But his frequent outbreaks, his constant and persistent attacks on newspapers not only of his own state, but of the country at large, made upon every possible occasion, irrespective of place or surroundings; his utter disregard for the proprieties, even the decencies, or for the dignity of his office; his unrelenting pursuit of those whom he calls his enemies;his reckless use of the pardoning power,said by many to be breeding disregard of the criminal laws of the state—these things have set the people outside the state to wondering just what manner of man he is.

"Is he really a man of the people, striving for the uplift of those who are down, the champion of the common people against the pretensions of the aristocrats, as he claims to be, and his followers say he is, or is he just a demagogue—the most blatant of them all—seeking to array class against class for his own purposes, regardless of the welfare of the state so long as his own ends are served and his own ambitions gratified. These are the questions the people outside of the state are asking.

Blease is a strange character. Men with similar attribute have arisen all over the country from time, but there has probably never been one just like him, probably will not be again. The progress of education will make it impossible. Senator Tillman says he is crazy, and in this opinion many agree with him. But they and the Senator are wrong.

Instead of being crazy he is a remarkably shrewd man. Probably no man in the country knows better the temper of the mob, how to play on its sympathies and its prejudices and how to mold it to his will. He knows that the people instinctly love a man who will strike out right and left, who carries a chip on his shoulder always. The American people love a fighter, but those who think want one will be sure he is right before he begins to fight; those who do not think do not care so long as the fight is on.

And Blease plays on this trait of the people,, plays it to the limit. It is his trump card. He fights anything or anybody who disagrees with him and fights until the last horn blows. Unfortunately for South Carolina, its percentage of illiteracy is high, even among the whites; and it is to the illiterates that Blease makes his strongest appeal.

They are the most numerous. Everything he says or does seems to be calculated for its effect on this class, and without question this class is with him heart and soul. To those who form it he is their Moses, struggling to lead them out of the wilderness of oppression. He is one of them, they believe, one who knows their problems and their difficulties and who sympathizes with them, who voices the aspirations they feel, but cannot express.

Is he a demagogue? The Standard dictionary defines a demogogue as "an orator or leader who seeks to influence the people by pandering to their prejudices and passions." According to that definition, there seems to be no doubt as to Blease's standing In his public speeches Blease rarely reasons things out. He makes direct, positive statements of things he says are facts, yet which are obviously purely matters of opinion or of belief. Yet if he believes a thing to be so for him, it is so.

If he takes a position, that position is right. It must be; otherwise he would not have taken it. If he disagrees with a man, that man is a liar. How could he be otherwise, for Blease is always right? He is so constituted that he believes things are that way. He cannot see that there is ever any other side of any question. Therefore when his public acts are criticised, even in the most sincere manner, he becomes furious.

A criticism is a personal attack. The man who makes it is an enemy and enemies were made to be fought. The fight begins, with much fuss and fury on the part of Blease, while the critic, having had his say, usually is content with that and says but little more. But Blease keeps it up much to the delight of the crowd, which usually does not know what it is all about but which is much cited, nevertheless, and thinks Blease is a great fellow.

Refuses to Make Comment.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.|—Harry Woods, secreteray of state elect of Illinois, refused today to make any additional comment on the letter he sent to the Springfield Commercial Association, declining to attend a dinner Lincoln day, because United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, was to be a speaker. The letter follows:

"Springfield Commercial. Assn.
"Springfield, Ill.

"Gentlemen:—Your kind invitation to attend banquet in honor of Lincoln's birthday received. It is not for me to criticise your speakers, but to listen to Joe Bailey (of Standard Oil notoriety) eulogize Lincoln will be intolerable. Others may enjoy such a mockery, but I beg to be excused.

"(Signed)

Fire in Industrial School.

Lawrenceville, Va., Jan. 28.—St. Paul's Normal Industrial School was visited by a fire Monday afternoon that for a time threatened to destroy the whole institution. About 2 o'clock one of the boy's dormitories was found to be on fire. The alarm was sounded and in a short while the entire town and St. Paul's student fire departments had streams playing on the fire. Fighting in a driving rain without boots or rubber coats, the Lawrenceville volunteer fire department had a veritable baptism of fire and water with its first fire. Efforts were confined to saving two frame holses adjoining the burning building. Six streams of water so flooded the burning building that in about an hour the fire was under control. It is supposed that it was caused by an overheated stove igniting a wooden mantel. The damage to the building and the two adjoining ones will amount to about $2,000, which is covered by insurance. A heavy loss was sustained by the students, many of whom lost all of their clothing and books. Forty boys are without quarters.

St. Paul's School is a colored institution under the jurisdicaion of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia. This is the first fire that has visited Lawrenceville since the installation of the new water department. The tank furnished an abundance of water at high pressure.

THE TEST THAT TELLS.

Is The Test of Time. Many Alexandria People Have Made This Tet.

Years ago this Alexandria citizen told in a public statement the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills.

The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Alexandria reader demand more convincing proof? It's Alexandria testimony—it may be investigated.

Mrs. Anine Scott, 110 Prince street, Alexandria, Va., says: "I am the same strong friend to Doan's Kidney Pills today, as I was in 1910 when I publicly told of the cure they had made for me. This cure has been lasting, but I occasionally use Doan's Kidney Pills as a preventive. I had pains in my back and I could not rest well. In the morning I always felt tired and worn out, and I also had dizzy spells. Doan's Kidney Pills did such good world that it is a pleasure to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

Truth is simple, requiring neither study nor art. Reputation is not made, though sometimes it may be lost, in a day. Nearly forty years of business experience has proven to John A. WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Jan. 28.—All legislative busines in congress is at the present time tied into a hard knot. This is due to the fact that the Republican members of the Senate are determined to force the Democrats to consent to the confirmation of the Taft nominations. Immediately after the morning business today, the Republicans moved for an executive session. They had sufficient votes and after the roll was called the doors were closed.

The Republican members say they are determined to move for an executive session daily and they are going to stay in executive session as long as there are enough Democrats present to constitute a quorum. Should they persist in this course it will mean that the appropriation bills, now being passed by the House, will have to be passed at the extra session which President Wilson will call. It is also probable that Mr. Wilson will have to convene the Congress immediately after taking his oath of office as there is not much time intervening between March and July 1st for the passage of the appropriation bills.

Governor Mann, of Va. has notified General Leonard Wood, grand marshal of the inaugural parade, that fifteen of his aides will accompany him to Washington for the inauguraton of Woodrow Wilson.

Forty-eight excursionists are now putting the finishing touches on the lost Presidential election. They come from the nearest and furthermost parts of the United States, with expenses paid in a generous manner by Uncle Sam, and each carries with him a packet addressed to "The President of the United States Senate."

Theirs is the important function, although a very pleasant one. They are charged to deliver the certified votes of the various electoral colleges to the presiding officer of the United States Senate so that the President-elect may be formally declared "elected" on March the Fourth. For this service Uncle Sam pays $13,972.25 every four years.

On the second Wednesday in February according to the Constitution, the certified copies are carried by two messengers, with the presiding officer and members of the Senate following, to the House Chambers, where in the presenece of both Houses of Congress, they are opened, counted, compared with duplicate copies, and accepted as documentary proof of the election of the President.

While the Senate is now presided over by Sens. Bacon and Gallinger, in alternating periods, it is to the Georgian that falls the honor of "declaring" the election of Wilson. He will occupy a place on the rostrum beside Speaker Clark and will preside at the ceremonies. This informally closes the election and marks the inauguration of the incoming eecutive. guration of the incoming eecutive.

The trusted bearer from Salem who brings the votes of the electoral college of Oregon travels a distance of approximately 3,100 miles, the greatest of any, and receives $783.50—not to mention the "trip east."

The messenger from Olympia, Washington has the second farthest journey, covering 3,004 miles for $751.00. The California vote is brought from Sacramento, 2,979 miles from the National Capital, and costs Uncle Sam $744.75.

Annapolis is the nearest state capital, and lies within an hour's ride of Washington. He who brings the vote of this state, although exercising a commission equally as important as any of the others, receives only $9.50 for his troubles.

Copenhagen, Jan. 28.—Denmark today suffered from a mild attack of the war scare that is over all Europe. In order to strengthen the defenses of Copenhagen and the Sound between battalions infantry and three regimental staffs were ordered transferred immediately from Jutland and Funen, to Sea Island.

KILLED IN COLLISION.

One Woman Killed as Result of Accident on Norfolk Bridge.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 28.—Two automobiles crashed together on Tanner's Creek bridge at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, causing the death of one woman and the narrow escape of several others. The dead woman is Florence Robinson, of Akron, Ohio. She came to this city two weeks ago. Ruth Etheridge, H. T. Wright, and J. W. Orebaugh, the other occupants of the car, were rescued.

The passengers in the car that collided with the automobile in which Florence Robinson was riding are not known, and the police are now endeavoring to solve the mystery.

W. S. Jenkins, an oyster man who was on the bridge at the time, declares the occupants of the missing car, only stopped long enough after the collision to pull one man out of the water and left the others to drown. Jenkins rescued the Etheridge woman and H. T. Wright.

BOY CONFESSES.

Incendiary Fire Destroy Two Barns in Albemarle County.

Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 28.—John W. Via, one of the best known farmers of the Free Union neighborhood in the northern end of the country, had the misfortune to lose both of his barns by fire at an early hour Sunday morning together with their contents, including six horses, two farm wagons, and a surrey, harness ,farming implements, twenty barrels of corn and a quantity of other feed.

Leslie Lindsay, colored, aged seventeen years, suspected of being the incendiary, was found at the home of his mother, Mary Lindsay, two miles beyond the Via farm. Upon being returned to the scene of the fire, it was found that his shoes fitted the tracks there abouts. Teh boy then confessed to setting fire to the barn. He was at once brought to Charlottesville by Constable Burns and lodged in the county jail.

There was only $500 insurance on the buildings and none on their contents, which belonged principally to Mr. Via's son-in-law, W. E. Wood.

Death of Edward Mahoney.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 28.—Edward Mahoney, a member of the firm of J. & E. Mahoney, largest liquor dealers in Virginia, died at his home here Saturday. He was 69 years old. He is survived by a son and si daughters.

Patrolman Insane.

Dunkirk, N. Y. Jan. 28.—Brooding over his suspension several months ago by the police commissioners on account of charges of false arrest and abusive conduct preferred against him by Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey, the unfrocked Episcopal Minister of Rochester last July, Patrolman Charles F. Vetter, is strapped in a straight jacket at police headquarters today. He went violently insane last night and will probably be taken to the Gowanda State Hospital today.

Death of a Surgeon.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—Dr. Orville Horowitz, noted surgeon and former professor emeritus at Jefferson Medical Institute, died here today of heart disease. Dr. Horowitz, came of a distinguished family of physicians and was himself patron of many scientific bodies.

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, In a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble.

My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.
